

pie on both sides as to how the work of disarming will be accomplished. Nothing but a house to house visit and search can recover the guns, but by what right that can be done is a question that no one proposes an answer.

ANXIOUS TO GET RID OF PINKERTONS.

The Advisory Committee is anxious to get rid of the weapons, but there has to be doubt about the legal aspect of the case, and it is said they are now waiting for the guns to be legal counsel. At the time of the surrender one of the conditions granted was that the arms would be returned to the Messrs. Pinkerton when opportunity occurred. There seems to be some doubt as to the legal responsibility of the committee for the guns who could not account for them. The Pinkertons lost in the melee. The men will, under advice, proceed very cautiously in the work of restoration.

A fact not generally known is that there are a large number of Winchester still in the Carnegie mill, supposed to be also the property of the Pinkertons. These guns, about two hundred in number, the locked-out men believe to be stored in the carpenter shop in boxes, and they were with difficulty restrained by their leaders from making a search for them before the militia arrived.

PROVISIONS AND COGS FOR NON-UNION MEN.

Last night a large number of provisions and cogs sufficient for a fairly large number of men, anchored on the shore of the yard just below the Fenwick railroad trestle, and within a few yards of the spot on which was fought the memorable battle of last week. All the provisions and cogs are now stored in one of the main storehouses near by.

Further, a number of men, fifty, at least, exclusive of the regular watchmen, are now quartered in the yards. Whether or not they are non-union men it is impossible to say, as no manner of pass will enable one to enter the gates or even get by the triple line of pickets which encircle the plant.

An advertisement which appeared in the Pittsburgh morning papers excited much interest among the men of Homestead. It calls for bids for the work of building 100 houses in this borough and is signed by H. C. Frick. It shows that the company has been preparing for months for this trouble with the men, and that it is their determination to make a fight to the finish. New streets have been laid out in what used to be the Pittsburgh City Farm, and the new men will be housed in new structures as soon as they can be built.

The works of the Carnegie company extend along the Monongahela river for three miles, beginning at City Farm Station and ending at Homestead Station. There are three railway stations along the works, and it is quite possible for transactions at one end of the works to be unknown for hours at the other end because of this condition of things and the impossibility of any one getting inside even on the railway track.

ARMED MEN AT THE PLANT.

The strike in the Union mills seems not to affect the situation here as yet. None of the strikers have appeared here, and the Carnegie managers affect to be pleased with the situation. Sixty men in the melting department of the mills of Singer, Nix & Co., Pittsburgh, struck last night, and the mills shut down. James A. Laughlin, of Pittsburgh, whose mills have been shut down since July 1, but have been undergoing repairs by a large force of men, locked out these repairs last night. Capital and labor seem to have set out for a tremendous war, and capital seems to be the aggressor in most of the present troubles. The indications are that it is to be the most obstinate as well as the most stubborn fight for supremacy ever known.

MR. LOVEJOY IS CONFIDENT.

Not the Least Doubt, He Says, that the Company Can Get Men.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 16.—The following notice was today ordered by the Carnegie Steel Company to be posted on the gates of the plant in the vicinity of the works, and to be sent out all over the country:

NOTICE—Individual applications for employment at the Homestead Steel Works will be received by the General Superintendent, either by telegram or personal, until 10 o'clock, Thursday, July 22, 1892.

It is our desire to retain in our service all of our employees whose past record is satisfactory, and who do not take any part in the present strike. We have been made to interfere with our right to manage our business.

Those of our old employees who do not apply to the firm above named will be considered as having no desire to assist our management in the present strike, and those applying will have the choice of being retained or of leaving the plant.

This notice will be sent to the employees of the works, and after non-union men with this place will be filled with non-union men.

That there are non-union men in the Homestead mill is not coming today is evident from what Mr. Lovejoy, secretary of the company, today said. When asked how many non-union men were in the mill, he said:

"Well, now, really, I cannot discuss the details of this question, and am not at liberty to tell you how many men there are in the mill."

"Will you say how many men will go up today or before you get ready to start the mill?"

"No, I cannot. There are some things the public has no right to know and that is one of them. There is not the least doubt, however, that we are going to have men to work the mill in a satisfactory manner."

At 10 o'clock this morning the steamer Tied, loaded with provisions, started for the works at Homestead. She passed through Lock No. 1, where six or eight men boarded her. The report from the lock was that they were laborers.

FENCING IN THE FACTORY.

The Carnegie Mills at Pittsburgh to Be Inclosed by a High Barrier.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 16.—The Carnegie mills in this city are being inclosed with a high barrier, which is regarded as evidence that the managers of the company fear that they will have trouble with their men here, and are preparing for an attack. Carpenters began their work on the inclosure early yesterday morning, and today the work is progressing rapidly.

The situation at the Upper and Lower Union Carnegie mills was quiet and peaceful today. All the mill men have retired from work with the exception of probably ten laborers, who are assisting in loading the finished iron for shipment.

One hundred men were sworn in as watchmen yesterday, forty for the lower mills and the remainder to go on duty in the upper mills.

The Keystone Bridge Works, through lack of working material, will stop in a few days. It is also reported that the Lucy Lathrop will be disbanded, but the report is denied.

BRADDOCK MEN NOT TO STRIKE.

They Sympathize with Homestead Workmen but Will Not Quit Work.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 16.—The men of the Braddock Bridge Works, who are sympathetic with the Homestead workmen, but who are not members of the Amalgamated Association, have decided not to strike. They are now working on the bridge, and are expected to complete it in a few days.

ARE THEY FOR HOMESTEAD?

Suspicious Movements of Hungarian Workmen in Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 16.—It is rumored here that a large number of Hungarian employees of the Pittsburgh Iron Company, who left their work yesterday without giving notice, have been hired to go to the Carnegie works at Homestead, as they are making preparations to leave town to take the places of the locked-out men. The report has not yet received confirmation, but it is generally believed to be true.

PINKERTONS NOT WANTED.

The Window-Glass Workers to Ask Congress for Their Suppression.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 16.—The National Window-Glass Workers' Association, in session here, has unanimously passed a resolution requesting the Executive Board to present to Congress a memorial, expressing the desire of the organization for the passage of a law prohibiting the introduction of armed bodies of men like the Pinkertons in settling strikes and labor disputes.

UNION MEN NEED NOT APPLY.

But the Strikers Will Be Taken Back as Individuals.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 16.—Hughes & Patterson have posted notices in their rolling mills here, stating that they will take back any of their striking employees as individuals, but not as members of the Amalgamated Association. The firm says they are preparing men in other cities to run their mills. Several hundred men employed by the firm have been out since July 1.

Work on a Torpedo Boat Delayed.

The U. S. Fish Commission's Torpedo Boat Delayed.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 16.—The work of putting together the frame of the new United States torpedo boat has been commenced in the harbor. High water has prevented the steamer from getting to the pier, and the work is delayed until the tide is out.

THE OPPOSITION 28 AHEAD.

Liberals Count on 16 Seats Out of the Remaining 22.

LONDON, July 16.—At 2:30 o'clock the Liberals show the election of 250 Conservatives, 45 Liberal Unionists, 202 Liberals, 64 anti-Parnellites, 9 Parnellites and 3 Laborites.

JOLLY YOUNG TAR.

Naval Reserve, S. N. Y., on a Cruise on the New Hampshire.

Ceremonies of Putting the Old Ship in Commission.

White Cruisers to Assist in Instructing the Militia Sailors.

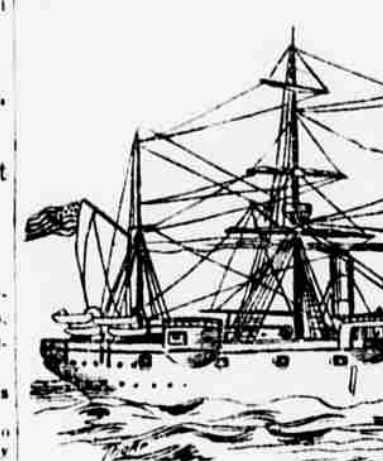

The second annual cruise of the First National of the Naval Reserve of the State of New York began at 11 o'clock this morning, when the three hundred young men composing the brigade formally took possession of the old frigate New Hampshire, lying off Twenty-ninth street, in the East River.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The event has been looked forward to with more than passing interest by the members of the naval militia of the State, and a large crowd of relatives, friends and spectators of the amateur tars were on hand this morning to give them a jolly send-off on their cruise of instruction in naval warfare.

The ponderous old frigate, which will be the home of the young sailors for the next seven days, was the scene of the most brilliant kind of activity from an early hour this morning up to the time that the vessel was taken down to its anchorage in Gravesend Bay.

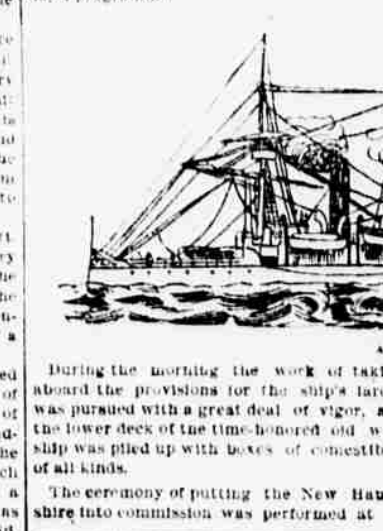

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

A couple of dozen blue-jackets from the Navy Yard, under the command of Lieut. Noyes, were early at work polishing the brasswork and the guns and doing various other things towards getting the decks ship-shape.

Though the hour for assembling was fixed at 9 o'clock, the Reserve members began to arrive as early as 7 o'clock, and they lost no time in donning their uniforms of white canvas duck.

Commander Miller and several of his subordinate officers reached the boat at 9 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock a meeting of the officers was held in the commanding officer's cabin, for the purpose of outlining the full program of the party in expediting home rule.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

During the morning the work of taking about the no-nonsense for the ship's harbor was pursued with a great deal of vigor, and the lower deck of the time-honored old warship was piled up with boxes of confections of all kinds.

The ceremony of putting the New Hampshire into commission was performed at 11 o'clock.

Indigestion Cured.

I have for years been troubled with indigestion. When I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, I was cured. It gave me great relief, and I was able to eat without that terrible distress. I also feel much better in general health, for all in which I thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

IS MILLER THE MAN?

A New Clue in the Mary Anderson Murder Mystery.

Perth Amboy's Police Again at Work on the Case.

Blood-Stained Razor Sold by a Man Who Worked There.

Through the kindness of Joseph Back, Superintendent of George W. Roder & Co's terra-cotta pipe works, 611 West Fifty-first street, a new clue has been developed in connection with the murder of Mary Anderson at Perth Amboy June 8, and today Acting Chief of Police Burke, of that place, is in possession of a number of facts that may go a great way towards clearing up this strange mystery.

Supt. Back called on Chief Burke at Perth Amboy early in the current week and told this story: On Tuesday, June 28, two men, both ragged and penniless, called at the Roder factory and requested work. The spokesman of the pair gave his name as John Miller, and said he was familiar with the work required, as he had been employed in a number of terra-cotta factories, and mentioned Maurice's and the Staten Island Terra-cotta Works, both of which are in Perth Amboy.

Supt. Back put Miller at work at 67 a week, and he worked for him about June 30. Miller was unable to pay for lodgings and the night watchman, John Duff, permitted him to sleep in the hayloft.

Two days after Miller went to work, Back, remembering the circumstances of the Mary Anderson murder, said to Miller: "What do you know about that Mary Anderson murder? Who killed her?"

Back said Miller became very much agitated and stammered. "What murder? What Anderson girl?"

Then, he added, he didn't hear much about the case, as he had left Perth Amboy the day after the tragedy. That was indirect contradiction to his other statement that he had left Perth Amboy only a week prior to going to work for Roder & Co.

Back grew suspicious and again questioned Miller, who then said he remembered Mary Anderson; that she was a pretty girl and that the Polaks (Poles) killed her.

The first day Miller worked at Roder's he tried to sell a razor for 50 cents. The day after that he had the conversation with Miller the former got one of the workmen to buy the razor and Back secured it. He instructed the workmen to try to buy a pistol from Miller if he had one, but the latter said he hadn't one, although his friend, who was with him when he was asked for work, had a .32-caliber revolver, and he would bring it around in a day or two.

On Saturday, July 2, Miller was paid off with the rest of the workmen. Meanwhile he scarcely left the works at all, his duties keeping him busy by day, and he had his meals brought to him at night by Watchman Duff.

The men noticed Miller's strange conduct, and a number of them questioned him about the Perth Amboy tragedy. He always grew very nervous, and pleaded extreme ignorance of the affair. One day a fellow-workman named Neumann spoke to Miller, addressing him by name, and the latter did not reply. Neumann again spoke, and Miller said: "John, Adler is my right name; I forget my New York name."

When Back got the razor he took it to Dr. Neumann, 426 West Fifty-first street, who said the blade was bloodstained.

Back then determined to communicate with the Perth Amboy authorities. Miller in some way suspected his intentions. He called repeatedly on Saturday, when he drew his pay, to buy the razor back, but was not permitted to do so. Miller's nervousness increased, and after finishing his work July 4 he left the factory, ostensibly to find his friend, whom Back promised to employ after the fourth. He never returned nor did his explanation.

He had only twenty-five years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, dark complexion, black hair and heavy, deep voice. His companion was a year or two older, dark complexion, with a round face and a small black mustache.

The fact that Miller went away with a day's pay still in his pocket added to Supt. Back's suspicion, and finally he told the facts before Chief Burke. The latter has Miller's razor in his possession, and the state on the blade will be analyzed.

The Amboy police regard the clue as a promising one, and they are again working up the details with renewed vigor.

HAD A HUNDRED-POUND NUGGET.

It is curious the number of gold nuggets that are invented to entrap the unsuspecting, says the San Francisco Chronicle. It would appear from the character of some of them that no high idea of the intelligence of the people is entertained by the men who set them out.

Not long ago a guileless-looking man, dressed as a mother of farm laborer and giving his name as Michael Maoney, appeared at the Brooklyn Hotel. He had in his pocket a gold nugget, which he found on a stream on his humble ranch in Sonoma County, and he offered it for sale.

He had a small, round, black, and a half white. It was a gold nugget, and he offered it for sale. He had a small, round, black, and a half white. It was a gold nugget, and he offered it for sale.

HOT WEATHER HUMORS.

Summer, when the pores open freely, is the best time to permanently cure diseases of the Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair.

More great cures are daily made by the Cuticura Remedies than by all other skin and blood remedies combined. They afford immediate relief in the most torturing and disgusting eruptions, humors, and diseases, and point to a permanent and economical (because most speedy) cure, when the best physicians and all other remedies fail.

Cuticura Remedies.

Bad humor since war; $5,000 expended on doctors and medicine without avail; gave myself up to die, good wife suggests CUTICURA, used then, seven months, entirely cured. Call on me, C. L. PEARSON, 1 Fulton Fish Market, New York.

Had eczema; went to the Soldiers' Home in Washington. Used CUTICURA REMEDIES, one set completely cured me. Skin now as fair as a newborn baby. Feel it my duty to witness the efficacy of your remedies. C. FRID BLUM, 622 Penn Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C.

One sore from my waist down with eczema. Three of the best doctors did me no good. Without doubt I owe my life to CUTICURA. Without them, I would have been in my grave. Your medicines alone cured me. Accept my thanks. W. H. QUALLS, Paducah, Ky.

My little boy was afflicted with eczema. Grew worse under three eminent physicians. Think it would have covered his whole body had I not tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. Two months' use completely cured him. S. WILLARD CASE, Shelter Island Heights, N. Y.

Relief, in the great majority of the severest cases of torturing and disgusting humors, eruptions and diseases, especially of infants and children, is immediate, and a cure, speedy, permanent, and economical, even when the disease is complicated with scrofulous and hereditary taints. This is strong language but every word is true.

RIOTING MINERS ARRESTED.

Gen. Carlin's Troops Are Making the Union Men Prisoners.

Non-Unionists Put to Work in Idaho Under Military Guard.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 16.—It is evident that Gen. Carlin, who is at the head of the federal troops here, means business, for he is taking the most vigorous measures to prevent any further lawlessness and violence on the part of the striking miners in the Coeur d'Alene district, and strict military law prevails everywhere.

More than one hundred of the union men have been arrested, including President Thos. Carlin, of the Executive Committee of the miners' central union, and Fred J. Bean, its secretary, all of whom have been placed under close guard. The arrests are being made continually, and as fast as any of the strikers are found in the camps elsewhere they are quickly carried by General Sims and the Provost Marshal's guard.

Several of them are said to have been taken into custody by the military police, and are being held in the military police station. The military police are also being used to enforce the law in the Coeur d'Alene district, and are being used to enforce the law in the Coeur d'Alene district, and are being used to enforce the law in the Coeur d'Alene district.

It is reported this morning that every member of the Union miners' central union has been arrested and locked up, and it is further reported that the military authorities are carrying out it means that more than one thousand men will be made prisoners.

Gen. Carlin has now about one thousand troops under his command, which is considered sufficient to prevent any further outbreaks on the part of the strikers and their sympathizers.

The guard-house at the camp on the main grounds is used as a prison, and all those who have been arrested are confined there. The military demonstration is so imposing that there is no room for the strikers to apprehend that any attempt will be made to force the prisoners. What will eventually be done with them has not yet been announced by the authorities.

Several squads of prisoners were brought in this morning by the provost guard, and the guard-house is rapidly filling up. Many of the prisoners were armed when arrested. Their weapons have all been confiscated.
